

Dr Mustafa Farouk is originally from Nigeria and has lived and worked in New Zealand for 25 years. He holds a PhD in Food Science. His research interests are in the areas of animal product science and technology, on which he has written 12 books and book chapters, and over 100 refereed journal articles.

In 2015, he was awarded the Queen's Service Medal for Service to the Muslim Community. He is actively involved in Interfaith and bridge building initiatives and served as the president of FIANZ 2018-2020, and on committees of the World Halal Food Council, and as a Wing Patron for the New Zealand Royal Police College.